 - (8) The statement of the required hardware and software needed by a producer to access, obtain, and retain electronic documents from the Company.
- (m) A general description of the Company's Information Technology architecture and operating environment (e.g., hardware and software) to establish operating capacity and compatibility with RMA systems, including whether these systems are managed in-house or through service providers, and the names of any such service providers. The description should, at a minimum, include the types and major version numbers of operating systems and databases; major programming languages and software products; and the name and major version number, if applicable, of any Company developed system that interacts with RMA systems, including a general description of the network architecture and security capabilities of such systems and industry standards or methodologies used for data exchange and software development.
- (n) A complete description of the process the Company will use to retain all records relative to eligible livestock price insurance contracts reinsured under this Agreement (e.g. applications, summaries of coverage, claims of loss, etc.).
- (1) The description shall include the office addresses and telephone numbers of the locations where such records are retained.
 - (2) If records are retained by sales agencies or sales agents, the Company must report those records' location(s) in accordance with Appendix III.
 - (3) The description shall include a certification that the Company has in place the security measures sufficient to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of any records in a manner consistent with FISMA.

- (4) If records are kept electronically, the description shall include the processes and procedures:

for the electronic storage and retrieval of such records, including locations of the principal and backup server locations.

- (o) If requested by FCIC, any information related to the Company or MGA that would assist FCIC in determining the operational capacity to perform under the terms of this Agreement.

SECTION V. FCIC REINSURANCE BUSINESS PLAN

The Plan shall include:

- (a) The maximum reinsurable net book premium volume for which the Company requests reinsurance. (This may be more than the total provided for item (V)(b)).
- (b) Estimates of the net book premium, by insurance plan, to be designated in the Commercial Fund and the Private Market Fund, within each State for the reinsurance year.
- (c) A declaration of the percent of the net book premiums and associated liability for ultimate net losses the Company will cede to FCIC in the Commercial Fund and Private Market Fund in each State designated in accordance with section V(b).
 - (1) Selling and servicing eligible livestock price insurance contracts in a State for which no declaration has been made by the Company under this subsection will result in the automatic designation of a retention of 100 percent net book premium and associated liability for ultimate net losses for such State.
 - (2) In the case of the Company acquiring another AIP, the Company merging with another AIP, or the Company being acquired by another AIP, and the percentage declarations for any State made under section V(c) are different between the Company and the other AIP, the Commercial Fund retention percentage for the combined net book premiums and associated liability in such States will be deemed by FCIC to be the higher percentage.
- (d) A declaration as to the Company's intention to place a portion of its net liability (after FCIC reinsurance) in the commercial reinsurance market and/or to use private market instruments.
 - (1) Commercial Reinsurance Market

- (i) The company shall submit, within 10 days of its receipt of the executed reinsurance documentation, a copy of the reinsurance treaties issued to the Company with a description of the type of reinsurance, attachment points and limits, aggregate limits, minimum deposit, and premium rates, and other applicable terms; and
 - (ii) The percent subscribed by each reinsurer to each treaty, or binder, and the names of each reinsurer, intermediary, or broker.
- (2) Private Market Instruments
 - (i) A description of the private market instruments the Company intends to use.
 - (ii) Name, address, and phone number of the Company personnel responsible for managing the purchase and redemption of private market instruments.
 - (iii) Name, address, and phone number of the intermediary/broker responsible for purchasing the private market instruments on behalf of the Company.
 - (iv) The Company's administrative guidelines and conditions for private market instrument purchasing and redemption.

SECTION VI. RISK ASSESSMENT AND CONTINGENCY PLAN

The risk assessment shall consist of, at a minimum, the following:

- (a) A copy of the latest maximum probable loss risk assessment, whether prepared by or on behalf of the Company. The assessment must detail the magnitude and frequencies of the risks assessed and include a description of the methodology used.
- (b) For each of the risks listed in subsection (c):
 - (1) An estimate of the probability of occurrence;
 - (2) A rationale for the estimate;
 - (3) An assessment of the impact on the Company; and
 - (4) A contingency plan for how the Company will be able to meet the obligations under the Agreement should the event described by such risk occur. The plan must describe:

- (A) How the Company will ensure that sufficient resources will be available to continue operations and service eligible livestock price insurance contracts for current and any previous reinsurance years, as applicable;
 - (B) How the Company would meet its obligations for continuity of indemnity payments to producers, to accurately calculate premium and indemnities, to bill premium timely, and to prevent data corruption;
 - (C) If the Company uses an MGA identify how the Company will obtain or retain sufficient financial and operational capacity to manage a delivery system through resources other than those currently provided by the MGA;
 - (D) How the Company will ensure that sufficient cash resources will be retained to continue servicing operations and meet all requirements of the Agreement;
 - (E) How the Company will ensure that it retains sufficient expertise in crop insurance sales, underwriting, loss adjustment, quality control, data processing, and all other facets of crop insurance sales and service to continue operations until all requirements of the Agreement have been met; and
 - (F) The physical security of current and backup systems; how backup systems will be deployed in the event they are needed; an estimate as to how long before normal operations may be expected to resume in the event the backup system is needed as the primary operational system; and how personally identifiable information will be protected in a transition from primary to backup systems.
- (c) Risks:
- (1) Crop insurance expenses exceed the A&O subsidy provided by FCIC.
 - (2) Underwriting gains are insufficient to offset any expense deficit identified in paragraph (1).
 - (3) Policyholder surplus decreases more than ten percent in any calendar year.
 - (4) A significant interruption occurs in computer hardware or software that affects operations or data transfer capabilities (such as due to a computer virus, security breach, communications failure, etc.).
 - (5) A rating agency determines the Company's ability to meet its current obligations is marginal and that its financial condition is vulnerable.

- (6) Lines of credit or other financial arrangements become unavailable or is inadequate to meet cash flow needs.
- (7) Commercial reinsurance becomes unavailable or its cost rises (or ceding commissions received decline) significantly.
- (8) If the Company uses an MGA or service providers, the MGA or service provider:
 - (A) Is no longer able to perform the requirements of its agreement with the Company;
 - (B) No longer has the financial or operational capacity to enable the Company to comply with the requirements of the Agreement; or
 - (C) Becomes ineligible to participate in the Federal crop insurance program.
- (9) Any other material threat or risk that the Company may be aware of or have prior knowledge of that should be considered in the selling and servicing of eligible crop insurance contracts reinsured under the Agreement.
